Officers of the Month

Officers are routinely called on to wear many hats during a tour of duty. And they do so willingly. As dedicated, caring, compassionate professionals, they truly want to make a positive impact in the communities they serve. And thanks to LEMART (Law Enforcement Medical and Rescue Training), officers are further equipped to do just that. LEMART training gives officers tools to provide potentially lifesaving medical intervention while awaiting Emergency Medical Services. To be effective, this requires dedication to training, quick thinking and immediate action. On November 18, 2024, 019th District officers responded to a call of a person shot near Lincoln and Berteau. When the officers arrived on scene, they discovered an off-duty Chicago police officer rendering aid to a male individual who was on the ground, bleeding badly from the arm and neck. It was determined that this individual had been shot multiple times at that location moments earlier. Recognizing the seriousness of this man's injuries and the gravity of the situation, the responding officers quickly applied a tourniquet to the victim's arm. Officers then worked to keep the victim alert, reassuring him that medics were on the way. Once paramedics arrived, officers provided safe passage to Illinois Masonic hospital, saving valuable time. There it was learned that a bullet severed the victim's brachial artery, and he lost a troubling amount of blood. However, doctors were able to stabilize the victim and credit the officers for giving him this fighting chance of survival. The officers' immediate action and compassion saved the life of someone's dad, husband and grandpa. It was also learned that the victim was a retired member of the Chicago Police Dept. One arrest has been made in this shooting incident and the investigation remains ongoing.

Officers, thank you. You represent the best in policing and humanity.
